

EXHIBIT XX

	Dawn Dorland Donor Letter	The Kindest Letter Excerpt (Registered Version)	Comparison
1	Dear Recipient,	Dear Friend,	[Introduction] Author's introduction and where they reside.
2
3	My name is Dawn Dorland. I'm a 35-year-old white female,	By now you are likely wondering just who this person--	Authors are approximately same age, same sex, and same race. (Donor Letter, ll.3-4; The Kindest Letter, ln. 7).
4	and I live with my husband in LA.	your kidney donor-- could possibly be. Today I reach out to share a warm hello. It is me.
5			[Body] First, the author discusses origin of the author's decision to donate a kidney. (Donor Letter, ll. 6-13; The Kindest Letter, ll. 7-14).
6	In 2009 I read my first article about living kidney donation,	I'm a thirty-eight-year-old white female, and I live in
7	and in the years since, I have been constantly reminded--	Newton, Massachusetts (born and raised). Last year,	Next, the author describes their past difficult experiences which have contributed to who the author is now (Donor Letter, ll. 21-25; The Kindest letter, ll. 17-19).
8	whether triggered by my reading (I am a writer), or through	while lost in a difficult period, I saw a documentary
9	the stories of people I know--of the harrowing experience of	about altruistic kidney donation. As the credits rolled, I	Third, the author discusses elements of the process of the donation, and the author's expressions of positivity to the recipient. (Donor Letter, ll. 30-42; The Kindest letter, ll. 25-31)
10	dialysis and the dire need in our country for kidneys. I	felt shocked by the daily hardship of so many people in
11	believe that I knew, from the moment I first became aware of	need. Equipped with this new awareness, I set forth on	[Conclusion] The author states their desire to know more about the recipient, but with the understanding that the recipient may not want to know the author. (Donor Letter, ll. 44-47, The Kindest letter, ll. 33-35)
12	the possibility of donating one of my kidneys, that I would	a journey to offer a great gift, to do my part in bettering
13	one day find a way to do this.	a fellow human's life.	Finally, the closing sign-off is identical (i.e., "Kindly") (Donor Letter, ln. 51; The Kindest letter ln. 40)
14
15	Once I had all the information, I was motivated to donate at a	I'm grateful to the MGH transplant team, who held my	Similarities:
16	time when, due to medical advances and the existence of	hand from my very first blood test. I myself know
17	the National Kidney Registry--especially the leaps they've	something of suffering, but from those experiences I've	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Both letters share similar compositions Review of media source where subject matter is kidney donation (i.e., an article (Donor Letter, ln. 6) vs. documentary (The Kindest letter, ln. 9)
18	made matching compatible strangers through paired	learned courage and perseverance. Whatever you've
19	exchange--I stood to make an maximum impact in others'	endured, remember that you are never alone.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Recognition of need (Donor Letter, ln. 11; The Kindest Letter, ll. 11-12) Motivation to donate following "collecting information" (Donor Letter ll. 16-17) or "new awareness" (The Kindest letter, ll. 12-14).
20	lives with only minimal risk to myself. Personally, my
21	childhood was marked by trauma and abuse; I didn't have		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Hardships in the author's personal past (Donor Letter, ll.21-22; The Kindest letter, ln. 17-19) Author's own positive emotional response to donation of kidney (Donor Letter, ll. 30-42; The Kindest letter, ll. 25-31)
22	the opportunity to form secure attachments with my family of	A few things about me: I like sailing, camping, jewelry,
23	origin. A positive outcome of my early life is empathy, that it	and cats.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Offer and expressed desire to meet (Donor Letter, ll. 44-47; The Kindest letter, ll.33-35) "Kindly," sign-off (Donor Letter, ln. 51; The Kindest letter, ln. 40)
24	opened a well of possibility between me and strangers.	My journey to you has entailed immense time, money,
25	While perhaps many more people would be motivated to	and yes-- pain. But throughout it all I found a profound
26	donate an organ to a friend or family member in need, to me,	sense of purpose, knowing that your life depended on
27	the suffering of strangers is just as real.	my gift.
28
29	I can't tell you how happy I am that my donation eventually--	Now I smile at the thought that you are enjoying
30	two organs and four surgeries later--resulted in your	renewed health. I hope-- with all my heart--that you feel
31	receiving [REDACTED] kidney. Throughout my preparation	emboldened with a new sense of hope.
32	for becoming a donor, which spanned precisely eight months
33	from my first testing to the date of our surgeries, I was most	Naturally, I am curious about your healing, and
34	excited about the recipient who would come off of the	perspective on our shared experience. Perhaps we
35	deceased donor list and end our chain. I focused a majority	could meet. If you'd rather not, that's fine, but I'll leave
36	of my mental energy on imagining and celebrating you.	my number here regardless. Consider it token of my
37		affection-- a lifeline, should you ever need reminding
38	My gift, which begat [REDACTED], trails no strings. You are	that you are loved.
39	deserving of an extended and healthy life simply for being
40	here.	Kindly,
41		Rose M. Rothario
42	Please know that my husband and I would love to know
43	more about you, and perhaps even meet you one day. But I
44	accept any level of involvement or response from you, even
45	if it is none.
46
47	Thank you for reading this letter, and be well.
48
49	Kindly,
50	Dawn
51
52			